Their long roster of credits include The Inheritance, Mrs. Doubtfire, American Son, Anastasia, Hadestown to name a few.

“

We have to work on the macro. We can say theatre's gotta change, & it does, but if we're still getting shot in the damn street, and still being policed, and not even able to have a lemonade stand while being black.. If your house is literally burning down, it doesn't matter how well we redecorate the living room, which is the theatre community. We have to stop our house from burning down."
